Submit Plans for Trustee Approval

Plans for the temporary sewage treatment plant to be constructed in the Village of Orland Park by the Sanitary District of Greater Chicago are complete, it was learned from village attorney, Raymond Pieper, at the board meeting Monday.

He advised the plans will be submitted to the Sanitary District board of trustees for approval this week. Two weeks after approval, advertising for bids will be made and a contract let.

The board took official action at the meeting to hire three men in the police department on the recommendation of the police committee. They are Eugene Yunker, acting police chief; E. Lucas, sergeant; and Clarence Lew, patrolman, who has just completed a six month probation period.

A check from the Orland Park Woman's club of $50 for the police department was accepted. According to discussion, it will be used for the purchase of finger printing equipment and toward the purchase of a reefer coat.

Other business transacted at the meeting was a report read from A. Wheeler, police magistrate, that $175 was collected in fines in the month of November.

The village clerk will inform Public Service company of a low power condition in the area of 143d and 147th, Beacon and West aves., which affects television sets, so that an investigation may be made by them.

Building permits issued last month by the village clerk and approved by the board, were for a new home at 14560 Raney's Lane, to Joseph Gargola, one to T. H. Davidson for remodeling, and a sign permit to Orland Park Building Corporation to be erected at Walgreen's Drug store, also four signs for Sinclair Refining at 143rd and Southwest Highway.

The trustees voted to revise the liquor ordinance.

Because the Veterans Administration has stipulated that a fence be constructed along the Wabash railroad tracks in Orland Park Hills where the Duffy Construction Company are building homes, the village ordinance covering fenced and retaining walls will have to be revised. The ordinance states that fences must be set back six feet from the property line.

Duffy proposes to build homes in this area, and the VA insists on the fence along the tracks for the protection of children. With the change in the ordinance, the fence could be constructed on the property line.

It is proposed to construct a 4,000 foot wooden fence, which Mayor Walter Schussler expressed as not too practical because of the danger of burning, cost of maintaining it and possibility of its deterioration, stating it was conducive to trouble.

The request of the fire department that the village pay half of the cost of 500 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose and 500 feet of 4 1/2 inch hose, proposed to be purchased, was granted by the trustees.

Rules in Drainage Case

Assessment Roll Wins Approval

County Judge John C. Cowing, of Will county, on Monday of this week approved the assessment roll spread for the purpose of cleaning the ditch of Union Drainage Dist. No. 3, Frankfort and Orland township.

Cost of the work is estimated at $12,750, according to Robert Hamilton, district engineer. Hearings were conducted at which three objectors sought to have a larger assessment spread against the village of Mokena which will use the ditch to carry off effluent from its sewage treatment plant when the system is put in operation. The share of the village had been fixed at $360.

Objectors were Arthur Buske, William J. Weber and Frank

Liszt.

Albert H. Krusemark, attorney for the drainage district, presented the case to the court. Attorneys for the objectors were Francis J. Loughran and Angelo Pistilli.

The ditch, which takes the water from the tile lines covering the district, is some 23,000 feet in length.

Hard Work a "Must"

No Substitute for Application for Success at School

The installation of the Remington Rand equipment in the office at Carl Sandburg has permitted the school to do all the work of class scheduling and grade cards by machine. Once a student's information has been key punched on a card, it is relatively simple to study the results. For example, it is a matter of a few minutes with the machine to find out how many students made an A or how many students made an F in a course or group of courses.

At the end of the first quarter grading period, the administrative staff made a careful analysis of first quarter grades. Before any analysis of grades is made the first item of importance is the ability of the students who earned the grades. Many people have the impression that the average intelligence of the student body at Carl Sandburg high school is high. The average intelligence quotient of the entire student body at this high school is some sixteen points lower than at least two other well known suburban schools, according to a school-spokesman.

The following is a breakdown of the intelligence distribution of the students at Carl Sandburg:

Gifted (I. Q. above 130) 2.7%
Semi-Gifted (I. Q. 120-130) 8.0%
Above Average (I. Q. 110-119) 22.1%
Average (I. Q. 93-109) 50.2%
Slow Learners (I. Q. below 93) 17.0%

Of course the range in the upper category is very great because there is a vast difference between a boy with an intelligence quotient of 131 and a boy with one of 185 or 200. In addition, intelligence alone is not a sure factor in success. The interest and attitude of a boy with a 115 I. Q. may result in better achievement than a boy with an I. Q. of 145 who is indifferent about school.

During the first quarter some 6,180 grades were issued to students at Carl Sandburg High School. The following table shows a breakdown of these grades:

Grade	No. Earned	Per.
A's	882	14.2%
B's	1639	26.5%
C's	2231	36.0%
D's	974	15.8%
F's	454	7.3%

Included in the 6,180 grades were the grades given in physical education classes and the band and chorus classes. In view of the fact that concert band and concert choir students in a large percentage of the cases received either A or B, some adjustment downward in the percentage of A and B grades would be made if these grades were not counted in the table above.

A further study discloses that from the entire student body, 19% earned grades in their academic subjects only high enough to earn a position on the honor roll. To do this a student must have a minimum of a B average. Twenty-one percent of the student body earned a failing grade in at least one course.

What is the reason for these failing grades? A complete study was made of every student who failed one course to ascertain if there was a pattern to indicate a reason. The following reasons were listed for failure:

1. Did not do homework regularly81
2. Did not try66
3. Poor attitude about school63
4. Couldn't do the work41
5. Test results were poor38
6. Class response35
7. Poor attendance24
8. Lack of cooperation with teacher25
9. Unable to read18
10. Improper behavior11
11. Lack of neatness in work11

In many cases several items were listed as reasons for failure. Certainly a student who has a poor attitude about school would more than likely not try. Students who make no effort also are the ones who fail to turn in their homework.

Some of the reasons listed for failure are reasons over which the school has no control. Certainly it is the responsibility of every parent to see that their child is in regular attendance, school officials pointed out. Secondly, when a student is socially promoted until he reaches high school there is not a lot that can be done when he cannot read a fifth grade book or do fifth grade arithmetic. Many attitudes are fostered at home. Why would a boy be interested in school when his mother and father feel that attendance is immaterial and that he can quit as soon as he reaches his sixteenth birthday.

In baseball they say that 70% of a team's success depends on the pitchers and only 30% on the hitters. In school work a similar situation exists, the major factor in success is often not the ability but the desire.

Until automation devises a method, the old time formula for success must still prevail—hard work. The National Merit System recently revealed that 93% of the boys who won Merit Scholarships were also high school athletes. At one of our large eastern universities more than 75% of the freshman boys were active participants in extra curricular activities in high school.

The major lesson, "Color for the Individual" was presented and demonstrated by Mrs. Arthur Buske and Mrs. Ray Westlund. Mrs. George Elsner presented a game for recreation. Refreshments were served.

Bandits Get $1,200 at Motto Supermarket

Police are still looking for the two masked men, armed with pistols, who robbed the Motto Food Store at 14419 S. Cicero ave., near Tinley Park, last Saturday morning of some $1,200.

The loot included $125 from the purse of Mrs. Helen Barnes, Oak Forest, an employee of the store.

Twenty-six persons, including employees, deliverymen, a sprinkling of early customers, were rounded up by the bandits and marched into a large cooler.

The man who apparently was the leader of the pair showed concern over the plight of his victims. He asked how cold it was in the cooler and said that if the temperature was below freezing he would have the refrigeration system turned off.

Joseph Motto, head of the store bearing his name, told the bandit that pulling the switch on the refrigerating system was unnecessary as this particular cooler was for vegetable produce and the temperature remained at 45 degrees.

The bandits wanted to know if his captives would be able to release the door from the inside. When Motto told him the door could be opened, the persons were ordered inside and then the bandits piled boxes of milk and other merchandise against the door to give them more time for a getaway.

The hold-up took place about 8:45 o'clock Saturday morning. One of the bandits came in thru the front door while the other rounded up suppliers using the delivery entrance at the rear.

Mrs. Barnes, who was counting money in a cash register thought at first it was a practical joke. A few moments later she discovered that the affair was not a joke. Her remarks to the gunmen attracted her to their attention and they scooped up her purse containing approximately $125, she having cashed a check for her husband a few minutes earlier.

The two bandits appeared to be around 26 years old. They acknowledged that armed robbery was not a "good way to earn a living" but said they needed money. No one would (Continued to page 2)

May Hold Referendum On Bond Issue In April

A referendum on a bond issue for a sanitary sewer system for the village of Frankfort can be held in about mid-April.

All preliminary work by engineers and a plan and design for the system, including a sewage treatment plant can be completed within about 90 days, Robert Hamilton, who has been hired as village engineer, reported to the village board at a special meeting held Monday night.

The meeting, which was attended by the Frankfort plan commission, was called for the specific purpose of discussing sewer plans.

Robert C. Wheeler, of the staff of Educational and Technical Consultants Inc., gave a report to the board on facts and figures contained in a survey acquired by the village several years ago from another engineering firm relative to a sewer system.

Educational and Technical Consultants, Inc., is the firm engaged by Mokena and Frankfort to draft a land use plan for the area. It also was retained by Frankfort as consulting engineers on the proposed sewer project.

Plans for the system and the treatment plant, however, will be drawn by Robert Hamilton, hired as village engineer. Mr. Hamilton, employed in similar capacity by the village of Mokena, designed and planned the sewage system now (Continued to page 3)

Seek Owner of Dog Which Scratched Girl

The Mokena police are searching for the owner of a boxer dog which was picked up and impounded because of scratching five year old Janis Davies, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Davies of Brightwood, a Mokena subdivision, last week.

The dog has no collar or identification tag. The parents and police would like to contact the owner to find out if the dog has had rabies shots so that the child will not have to undergo this painful procedure.

New Pastor to be Installed at Mokena Lutheran Church Sunday

The Rev. A. J. Bueltmann will be installed as pastor of Immanuel Ev. Lutheran congregation of Mokena at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Jan. 18. The Rev. Mr. Bueltmann was formerly pastor of St. John Lutheran church at New Berlin, Ill.

Liturgist for the installation service will be the Rev. Leonard Reinke of Trinity Lutheran Congregation of New Lenox, who has served the Mokena congregation as vacancy pastor for the past year. The preacher will be Dr. Edgar A. Witte who has been the interim preacher. The installation rite will be performed by the Rev. Paul F. Hartmann of Emmanuel Lutheran church of Dwight, circuit visitor for the group of twenty congregations of which Mokena is a member.

The Rev. Mr. Bueltmann was born on Aug. 14, 1906, in St.

Louis. He took his pre-theological training at St. John's Lutheran college, Winfield, Kan. and his theological training at Concordia seminary, St. Louis, graduating with the class of 1932.

He has served parishes in California, Oregon, Washington and Illinois. He has served the districts in which he held pastorates in official positions in the departments of youth work, missions and education.

In addition to his pastoral work, he is an editor of "Nurture," the official publication of the National Lutheran Parent-Teacher League. As a writer, he has seen seven of his books published. He is a contributor to religious magazines. He has lectured before numerous church and civic groups and has taken an active part in community affairs.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Bueltmann are the parents of four children. They will make their home in a new residence in Kohlwood Estates while a new parsonage, now in the planning stages, is under construction.

Following the installation services, there will be a reception in the church parlors for the pastor and his family. The women of Immanuel congregation, the Ladies' Aid and Ruth societies, will serve refreshments.

The congregation to which pastor Bueltmann comes is one of the oldest in the Lutheran church—Missouri Synod, having been founded in 1850, three years after the synod was organized. The original church was on a wooded hillside three miles southwest of Mokena. The present church at Church and Cross streets was built in 1915. Trinity congregation of New Lenox is a daughter of Immanuel. Good Shepherd congregation of Frankfort, organized two years ago, counts among its founders many former members of the Mokena church who live in the vicinity of Frankfort.

Immanuel congregation is in the initial stages of an expansion program. A master plan is presently being developed for the future use of 20 acres of partly wooded land on LaPorte road. The first step in the "Building for the Future" program will be the construction of a modern parsonage later this year. The congregation now numbers 263 baptized members. There are 100 enrolled in the Sunday school.

Immanuel congregation invites all friends and neighbors to the installation services and the reception.

Nazarenes to Organize Church At New Lenox

The Nazarene church, an international organization, is to establish a church at New Lenox and the first services are to be held Sunday afternoon, Jan. 18, at 2:30 o'clock in the Lions Den on S. Cedar road.

The Rev. Dallas Mucci, pastor of the Tinley Park Nazarene church, will be in charge of the services this Sunday and for the next several until the New Lenox congregation calls a pastor.

Nazarene families in the New Lenox community, now attending services at Tinley or Joliet, requested the church organization to establish a church there. Formal organization of the congregation at New Lenox as a corporate unit will be accomplished later.

Those connected with the church are now considering several sites for a building. In the meantime arrangements have been made with the New Lenox Lions to use their building. New Lenox will be a part of the Chicago Central District of the Nazarene church which includes such cities as Chicago, Kankakee, Joliet and Danville. The Rev. Mark R. Moore, of Bradley is district superintendent. Refreshments were served.

New Lenox People Need Not Re-File Tax Complaints

New Lenox real estate owners who filed complaints with the Will county board of review after publication of the original assessment rolls Dec. 4, need not re-file because the rolls were re-published under the date of Dec. 29, it was announced by a board spokesman.

As of Monday of this week 165 persons had filed complaints, asking for an adjustment of the valuation placed on their holdings.

While the number of complaints is less than 200, the number of pieces of property will exceed that figure as some of the complainants own or represent more than one piece of real estate.

A board of review spokesman advised persons not to file a complaint if the valuation on their property is less than 55% of the actual value. If it is over 55% then they have something to argue about.

Conduct Funeral Services For 5-Month Old Girl

Last rites were conducted in St. Mary's Catholic church at Mokena Saturday morning, Jan. 10 for Baby Gary Dale Meskill, 4 1/2 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Meskill, Lincolnwood, New Lenox. The Mass of the Angels was conducted. (Continued to page 2)

Jumps from Car Rolling Downhill Toward Train

Mrs. Arnold Pack of New Lenox escaped injury when she jumped from the family car as it started rolling downhill from where it was parked last Saturday morning. The car collided with the fourth car of a passing freight train and was badly damaged.

Her husband had parked the car between Frank Wesolowski's store and Jack's place in New Lenox and entered the grocery store.

The engineer saw the car heading towards the tracks, but was unable to stop in time.

Damages to the car included a broken headlight, damaged front right fender and smashed front right door.

Hold Funeral Rites Today For Minnie Hauck

Funeral services are being held today for Mrs. Minnie A. Hauck, 82, who died Tuesday, Jan. 13, at her home, 302 Maple st., New Lenox.

The body was taken from the Baskerville chapel, Lincoln highway and Roberts st., New Lenox, at noon to St. John's English Lutheran church, Herkimer and Van Buren sts., Joliet, to lie in state until 2 o'clock when services were conducted by the Rev. William J. Boldt. Interment was in Elmhurst cemetery, Joliet, beside her husband.

The husband, John A. Hauck, died last July 7, just four days before the couple's 58th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Hauck was born at Mokena, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hacker. She and John Hauck were married at Mokena July 11, 1900. Prior to that she had taught at Sch-muhl school.

The Haucks lived at Joliet until 1945 when they moved to New Lenox.

Surviving Mrs. Hauck are two sons, Sheldon W. and John L., both of New Lenox and five grandchildren. Two sons, Earl and Everett, preceded her in death.

Illinois Normal Offers Course In Will County

Extension courses and workshops in 19 off-campus centers will be offered by Illinois State Normal University during the second semester.

An effort is made to offer courses requested by teachers and administrators on-the-job in their home communities. Dr. Francis R. Brown, ISNU director of university extension and field services, points out that courses are assigned to centers where it is apparent that enrollment and need justify the service. Approximately 1,800 different students enroll in ISNU extension classes in a single year.

Since it is necessary to limit the enrollment in extension classes, Dr. Brown urges that intentions to enroll be filed prior to the first class meetings. This may be done by writing the Director of University Extension and Field Services or by notifying the local sponsors.

Further information about the off-campus program can be supplied by Dr. Brown at ISNU and county superintendents.

Hours of meeting will be decided by each class when students are enrolled. Instruction will begin at the first meetings of classes which have been arranged in this area as follows:

WILL CO. — Joliet, Joliet Junior College; January 22; Philosophy of Education; instructor - Dr. Homer T. Knight, associate professor of Education. Joliet, Joliet Junior College; Jan. 22; Introduction to Statistics; instructor - Dr. Douglas R. Bey, associate professor of Mathematics.

Carpentier Asks Repeal of Law Giving Scooter Addicts Free Ride

Carpentier announces he has caused to be introduced in the Illinois Senate a bill to repeal the provision of the Drivers License Act which permits persons 14 years of age and over to operate motor scooters and similar types of vehicles without holding driver licenses.

Known as Senate Bill, the measure is sponsored by leaders of both political parties in the senate. It would repeal Paragraph 8 of Section 6-102 of the Drivers License Act, which lists persons exempt from the requirement to hold a driver license.

Paragraph 8 reads: "Any person who is at least 14 years of age, while operating a motorcycle, powercycle, bicycle with motor attached, or power scooter, with a motor which produces not to exceed 5-horse power."

Roller Rink in Tinley Opens Friday, Jan. 16

Frank Schneider has sold his building at 177th and Oak Park ave., Tinley Park, to the owner of the Swank Roller Rink, 111th st. and Western ave., Chicago, who will convert the building to a roller rink for which it was originally constructed.

The bar which was installed by Schneider will be removed and no liquor will be sold on the premises.

The roller rink will open under the new management on Friday, Jan. 16. Skating for high school age or over will be on Tuesday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday from 7 p.m. until 11 p.m.

Special matinees will be held every Saturday and Sunday from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. for all ages.

Monday, Wednesday and Thursday are reserved for private parties.

An organist will provide the music.

nearing completion in that community.

The Frankfort system would be financed thru general obligation and water and sewer revenue bonds.

At present there are 315 water meters in use in the village but several housing developments are foreseen in the area and Wheeler said indications pointed to a substantial growth in the next decade. Plans submitted to the village in 1956 were based on a projected population of 1,800. Wheeler said that 3,000 would be a more realistic figure. The type of treatment plant designed by Hamilton can be expanded easily, he said.

The proposed treatment plant would be located on Hickory creek, north of U. S. 30 and west of U. S. 45.

The McIntosh realty firm, which recently opened a subdivision northwest of U. S. 45 and south of U. S. 30, inside the village, is now planning to subdivide 100 acres north of U. S. 30 and west of U. S. 45. This property is not in the village yet but there is indication that it will become annexed.

Hamilton has a crew at work now making a topography map of Frankfort. It is believed that a sewer system can be designed so that a natural flow can be maintained to the treatment plant, and thus eliminate any lift stations, which are expensive to build.

Details, such as the size of laterals and interceptors, will be brought out as plans advance.

Burton Breidert, chairman of the Frankfort plan commission, recommended that the village council amend its subdivision ordinance to require developers to install sewer mains. A sample ordinance was submitted with the report of Educational and Consultants Inc.

Hamilton said that as a rule it wouldn't cost a subdivider anymore to install sewers and a sewage disposal plant than to install septic systems for each home and have it done properly.

There was considerable discussion of the measure and the board will give the proposal further study before taking action. No vote on such an ordinance could have been taken Monday night since the meeting was called specifically to hear and discuss reports from the engineers.

One thing the board doesn't want are housing developments with acre lots. Such subdivisions are difficult and expensive to service, it was pointed out.

Browsing Through The Cold Stove League

By DEAN DALLAS
Sports Editor

The Bremen Braves impressed many on Friday evening of last week.

Certainly, the Redmen proved the fact that they are good, when they are good. However, they also proved they were erratic.

Friday evening they were excellent. The loss was hard to sustain for they had the Golden Rocket from Rich down—needing only to apply the knockout blow; when Jim Mannaoini, one dominant power in the game, was sent away by the officials.

Ah, Yes, Officials—they go from bad to verse. One could write a verse on the "bandits of the black and white shirts." High school officiating has not degenerated to that low level, for I'm certain that no official intentionally makes bad calls. But it looks bad in the "Cold Stove League."

One instance of bad looking! Phil Wagner, end on the Rich football team, continually bulled off the post—and not to the tune of a whistle. In the closing quarter of the game—Jerome Randle El was called on charging into Mr. Wagner on a couple lay-up tries which might have meant the game. My rule book says that the individual making bodily contact first—or the defensive man moving into—should be charged with the foul. Just as Wagner shoulder bulled, he also gave Randle El the shoulder.

There is no game throwing involved, but it is just poor officiating under pressure. What is needed? Referee meetings. Referee schools! The sort of thing that is existent among coaches. If the game is to remain a spectator sport, then "good" officiating is of paramount importance. Since this is the toughest sports to umpire—it is time that more qualifications were required. IT IS TIME SOMETHING IS DONE OR AT LEAST STARTED.

It was obvious that Bremen's new offense had the men from Rich puzzled. Rich, with the best scouting staff in the SW Suburban, had the old Bremen offense learned.

The Rockets were also quite startled by a man-to-man defense. This is something that they haven't seen this season. Bremen continually outcoaching the Rich contingent. The Redman inexperience eventually paved the way for the downfall, but they went down in a great game.

Bremen's defense was much stiffer. Probably the weakest rebounding team, to date in the SW, the Braves continually dominated the rebound play with the taller men from Park Forest. They stole the show here. Jim Mifflin is developing into a fine man under the backboards.

The spirited play and the smooth functioning offense had Rich on its heels all evening. The Rockets won because they played the usually good ball game. They had the experience to overcome when the Braves lost Mannaoini. Rich won the game, but in the winning did not prove that the Braves were not as good.

Even in loss this might be the game that the Bremen team needed. They know that they can compete and probably beat the best team in the circuit. Certainly, the offense, cooked up by Brown and assistance, is far more to the advantage of the scoring and rebounding strength of the team. The Brave should be a "scalp hunter" from here on in.

Bremen's frosh-soph proved its class by dumping the young Rocket, 33-22, in what appeared to be a bad night for them.

Within the next two years, Bremen, Lincoln-Way, and Carl Sandburg, on the strength of frosh-soph records, and the sophomores who are on the various varsities, should be the strength of the SW Suburban League. L-W plays two and three sophomores. Sandburg plays one and two underclassmen. Bremen has certainly proved to be the top frosh-soph team in the conference. They have not been pushed this season.

The Glory of 1945! Tony Clicks

The rifles had quit barking in Europe and Japanese were cowed into suspension of warring activities by the A-Bomb in 1945.

That fall and the next couple years were the moments of greatness for Midget Auto Racing. Huge Soldiers Field could be jammed for a midget contest. Today things are different.

Bettenhausen hit the glory trail in the fall of 1945. Raceway Park in Blue Island was the scene of many victories for the Tinley Park driver. Here he was "king."

Raceway was popular at that time and to a large degree was popular because the "Young Tiger" was in the drivers seat of the winning cars.

Tony gave the crowd its moneys-worth in his daring dashes!

St. Louis, Milwaukee, Urbana were towns that had Bettenhausen on the brain. He was the consistent winner of the trophy races in the Midget classes at all these tracks. Right into 1946 Tony carried home most of the winnings as the top driver of the Mid-western Midget circuit.

"In those days," grinned the cocky driver, "the crowds were bigger, people had money and the war was over. And I think that people wanted to celebrate its end.

"The purses were bulging. Once a promoter called me to drive at Soldiers Field. This was during the days of the big money. I went to Soldiers Field to meet this promoter. Before going I had jokingly decided to request a $1000 to sign. Today, one is happy to race, not request large signing fees.

"To my utter amazement the promoter signed me for $1000. I came home in a state of shock. It has not happened again."

Bettenhausen was a large attraction. He was the biggest gate and could be today—the best of the Midget drivers. He has chosen to lead the class of Big Car drivers.

At Indianapolis the results were the usual!

Trouble and more trouble—all mechanical.

1946—Tony was in fifth place at the half way mark in the race—tremendous for a rookie driver—in his first Indianapolis effort.

Then he was out of the race. That is half the story.

Tony was scheduled to drive the Marchese Special from Milwaukee. Upon final inspection, before the time trials, it was discovered that the magna-fluxing was out of order the crankshaft was cracked.

any regular meet," explained Rusk.

Bremen lost to Argo, 47-39 and then beat Thornton Fractional, 44-42.

The top men on Bremen's squad should be able to beat or give the Bloom opposition a real trial.

Bloom's dash men are doing about 6 seconds better than Charley Smith. They are Ray Grigsby and Fred Washburn.

Larry Rosenquist, Bremen's 200 yarder, should have a real battle with Win number two!

"We looked like a ball team. The game was smooth and well played as we passed with accuracy, cut at the proper time, and did a creditable job of shooting," enthused Coach Joe Kruzich.

Lincoln-Way beat Lemont, 62-50, for its first victory of the campaign in the Naperville Holiday tournament.

It was another third quarter that brought the victory for the Knights. In the initial victory over Lemont, it was the same story. A 28 point third period was the winning spur for L-Way. This third canto netted 19 points for Kruzich's lads.

"Lemont has a little trouble getting together," explained the Knights mentor. "But we played a game of basketball on Friday night and thus beat the Lemont outfit by a big margin than a few weeks ago."

The first half was a regular L-Way first half—the score was real close. L-Way led at the half, 24-18. Then lightning struck again and Lemont was out of the game.

This was the first victory for the Knights on the home court and it delighted the good turn out. The Lincoln-Way fans have been faithful in supporting an erratic team. However, they are looking for better things in a couple years from their young and inexperienced team.

George Ruhle and Larry Iwema were big helpers in the victory. Both did an excellent job of collecting rebounds. Iwema added the top scoring honors to his achievements of the evening, with 16. George had 11 points. Guard, "Skip" Kruzich was number two scorer with 12.

Seven points was the top production for a Lemont player.

The Knights return to SW Suburban League action on Friday evening for a game with Reavis High school at Evergreen. Reavis is currently riding high in a third place tie with Carl Sandburg.

Last week Reavis beat Evergreen Park. Lincoln-Way will have its hands full on this evening.

Saturday is an open date.

The mechanics went feverishly to work. On the final day—Tony climbed in for the trials at 9 am.

Tony raced over a brilliant 125.860 mph on the first lap, but then a serious oil leak developed. Work again—The oil leak got worse through the day.

Finally, at the last possible moment he qualified at 124 plus mpm—oil leaks and all.

This Marchese Special was the car that won in 1930 with Bill Arnold at the wheel and won again in 1932 with Fred Frame driving. It had front wheel drive.

Castor oil was used in the old racing cars—it was the better lubricant at the time. Children won't agree with this.

On race day he started in last place because of further mechanical difficulties. A special oil tank had been installed in the twin-seated racer.

Paul Russo, well known Indianapolis 500 driver, hit the wall on the 15th lap and Tony spurred into 7th place.

But the oil tank was getting lower. At the half way mark the Tinley Parker had moved to fifth place.

Then the oil tank went out. The race was over for Tony.

This was nothing new. The car failed as many had for Tony Bettenhausen.

NEXT WEEK: "THE BREAKS BREAK AGAINST HIM?"

Jack Gifford—both swim the distance in about 2 and one half minutes.

Paul Schuetz, Bremen's ace, should not have much trouble with Wayne Dean in the 100-yard back stroke.

Bib Gidenof, Bremen might beat Jay Zoll of Bloom in the 100 yard breast stroke.

The Redmen have been swimming before turn-away crowds and Monday will not be any different. If you plan to make the match be there before 4 pm. to get a seat.

Clash Between Unbeaten SW Fives Highlights Tomorrow Night's Card

Oak Lawn, unbeaten, no surprise to many supporters, travels to Park Forest for a show down on Friday evening: Oak Lawn vs. Rich.

Rich and Oak Lawn are both pacing the SW. Rich owns a 5-0 mark, Oak is 4-0, having played one less game in league competition. Both have played about the same opposition.

Relative scores will probably indicate little in this battle for first place and unbeaten status. For a look: Oak Lawn has beaten Sandburg by 11—Rich took the Eagles by 16; Lincoln-Way was easy for Rich, but proved to be stubborn for Oak Lawn.

Since the game is being played on the Rich court—one is foolish to pick the Lawners to pull the upset. The Rocket is almost impregnable on the home floor.

Lincoln-Way travels to Reavis in an effort to gain its first league victory of the season. Reavis has been an up and down team. If they are up Lincoln-Way will not have too much of a chance. If they are down the Knights could very well come home with the first victory in the SW Suburban.

Sandburg faces another stiff test on Friday when it goes to Evergreen Park for the fifth game of the conference campaign. The Eagles are a surprising third and clawing desperately to stay there. Last week Sandburg faded before a real good Oak Lawn team, but held on to third place.

If Reavis should beat Lincoln-Way; and it is probable, and Sandburg loses, then it is a fourth place tie with Evergreen Park for the men from Orland Park.

Evergreen is a notoriously weak defensive outfit, but the question is this: Can Sandburg, lowest scoring aggregate score enough to beat the Evergreen team? Evergreen has not scored less than 60 points in any of its conference games. Sandburg hasn't ever scored that many. Sandburg should win this one and hold

Sportsmen's Club at New Lenox Plans Fox Hunt in Area

A fox hunt is being planned by the New Lenox Sportsmen club to be held Sunday, Jan. 25. In case of inclement weather, the hunt will be held on Sunday, Feb. 1.

Hunters will assemble at the Lions Den on South Cedar road at 9:30 am. and from there will be transported by truck to the hunting area. At noon they will be returned to the Lions Den where a chili dinner will be served. After the dinner and a relaxation period, the group will again go by truck to the hunting area and again try to outsmart their cunning opponents. Only shotguns will be allowed on the hunt.

The New Lenox Sportsmen letter gives an interesting description of ice fishing at their park near Wilmington. They state the bluegills are in schools now.

Saturday evening, Peotone added a few points each quarter, to the winning margin and finally downed the Lincoln-Way basketball team, 63-50. Earlier in the year, Peotone nosed out the Knights by one point here at New Lenox.

For the first half the Knights were much in the game—behind just 31-27 at the buzzer. Both teams were playing a good game. Each was hitting with good regularity to mount this score by the half.

Again the L-W team faded in the last segment of the game, losing 16-12 and 16-11, third and fourth quarters, respectively.

"We didn't blow the game. The Peotone outfit just got plenty hot in the last three quarters."

"After the first quarter of playing as individuals, the team from Peotone started to play as a team and they put on a great show of strength.

"My boys demonstrated that they could play basketball and we, certainly, are not ashamed of the exhibition of basketball that was put on there Saturday evening," explained Kruzich.

Play was good and it was ragged. Poor officiating seems to be the fare this season. Many flagrant fouls were committed with no movement by the referees. Good basketball is played when the officiating is good and keeps the players in hand.

"Skip" Kruzich was top point getter for Lincoln-Way with 17. Peotone presented a balanced front to win. Buntie (14); Singleman (13); Loefer (11); and Pralle (10) were the double figure fellows for the winners.

Larry Iwema netted 13 for Lincoln-Way.

George Ruhle was by far the top rebounder in this contest, but George's inability to hit the basket was sorely felt in the game. He picked off 14 rebounds.

"These games were decided improvements over the games of the tournament a week ago," reports Kruzich.

"We are going to improve—we hope plenty, but our showing in these games was better than expected. You can count on improvement from our club," I believe.

"A few breaks in the remaining SW Suburban schedule could net us a win or two," Kruzich finished.

The frosh-soph of Lincoln-Way beat Lemont badly on Friday, but lost an overtime game to Peotone, 45-43.

Mustangs Buck Braves in Mat Go

By VERN FEIN

The Bremen wrestlers, who sport a 3-3 record thus far this year, were dropped by the Evergreen Park Mustangs 28 to 18 in the Parkers auditorium last January ninth.

Each match was enveloped in excitement, with Bremen dropping each of the first two weight divisions by a slim 3-2 count. Then Jim Gruhn easily beat his Evergreen opponent, 9-3, to start the ball rolling for the red and gray. John Miggins of our mat men then was pinned and the score stood Evergreen 11, Bremen 3.

From here on in, the matches continued to be close, with the Mustangs maintained about a ten point lead. Other Braves to register victories were Luke Kent, Jim Mueller, and Rich Snyder. Ron Chard and Bob Jerkatis managed ties against their Mustang opponents.

Followers of the team point out that the Braves are an excellent tournament team, due to Gruhn, Mueller, Kent and Snyder, who win consistently. However, the team lacks balance as a whole and is therefore not potentially as rugged in dual meets.

Bremen Frogs Face 'Suicide' Card

"We will find the competition more than enough," commented coach Joe Rusk of the Bremen swimmers.

Friday afternoon at Thornton Township, Bremen will meet one of the best swimming teams in the area. This will be a match for experience. That's about it.

Monday, Jan. 19, at Midlothian, Rusk expects his boys to do a better job. "We should not beat Bloom, but I'm hoping to get at least 30 points in the meet. 86 points are the total to be made in any regular meet," explained Rusk.

Bremen lost to Argo, 47-39 and then beat Thornton Fractional, 44-42.

The top men on Bremen's squad should be able to beat or give the Bloom opposition a real trial.

Bloom's dash men are doing about 6 seconds better than Charley Smith. They are Ray Grigsby and Fred Washburn.

Larry Rosenquist, Bremen's 200 yarder, should have a real battle with

Bremen Outshoots Rich Quint But Loses-Spartans Win 60-49

Bremen did everything but beat Rich Township on Friday night at Midlothian—losing 63-55.

The Braves outshot the Rockets from the floor with 25 baskets to 22 and set-up the argument of who is the better team when they shared a few more rebounds than the highly tutored men from Park Forest.

"Usually, that is enough to win any basketball game," lamented Coach Bill Brown of Bremen.

Burkhardt suggested that his men were off their usual game. "After playing such competition as Galesburg—we were just down."

This doesn't seem probable. Rich should not have panicked as they appeared to at points in the game. We ought to recognize that high school players are not professionals. Bremen was just on the move.

Bremen outfought, outscored from the field, out hustled the yellow shirted fellows, but couldn't quite get the score to balance in its favor.

Rich was always at the free throw lane. Rich was in a pressing, all over the court defense. Bremen was in a regular man to man. The Braves were called for the most illegal moves.

Bremen led at the end of the first half, 34-33, on brilliant shooting—percentage was about 53%—16 for 31 shots. The third period was a tremendous, 5 for 9. In quarter four the bubble burst and the Braves could only hit on 3 of 18. For the evening they shot over 40%. Great!

Jim Mannion, normally a man who will score 17 points, was good for only one basket, but his worth was in explaining the basketball team. Jim didn't score, but he sparred with assists and general direction, the Bremen attack. When he left the game early in the fourth quarter—the team indicated how much he was missed, scoring only 6 points.

Jim Mifflin has developed into the leading rebounder for the Braves. Mifflin, an early season easy going player, has become a real man under the boards for Brown. His shooting was spectacular with six hits in 7 tries.

Bob Rodgers, was good for eight baskets and two fouls for Bremen's best scoring. When Bob is hot he is hot. Should be Braves top point producer.

Jerome Randle El, with 11 points, played a tremendous game at the other guard post. His driving, if acceptable, would easily have put Bremen on the winning side of the score.

A new recruit, put in for Brown's new offense, Przybyla, proved that he is a competitor and that he can hit the basket. He was good for five twin-pointers. Brown showed four men who could hit the double figures and a man to set them up. A great display of team effort.

fort—yet, just short of victory.

Brown is mumbling to himself, "What does a man have to do to win in this league?"

Rich has consistently made mistakes of the opposition because it controls the rebounding. It was a real surprise to see the weakest rebounding team—to date—maybe they aren't now, Bremen beat Rich at its own game.

Yes, the Rockets were off, but if Bremen plays again like they did Friday evening, with Jim Mannion in four quarter service, the Rich team will lose.

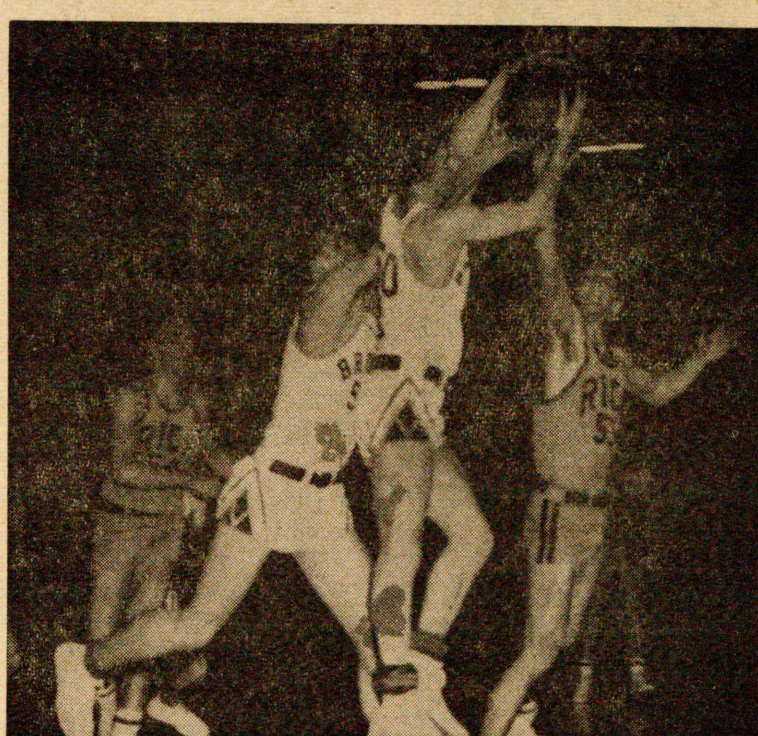

The Rockets played their usual type of game as predicted. Bremen came up with a great one that was not quite enough, and Rich won on sheer consistency.

Phil Wagner, top rebounder and shooting for the game, kept Rich on the winning trail by his bull like rushes off the pivot post. Wagner scored 23 points for the evening and picked off about 22 rebounds.

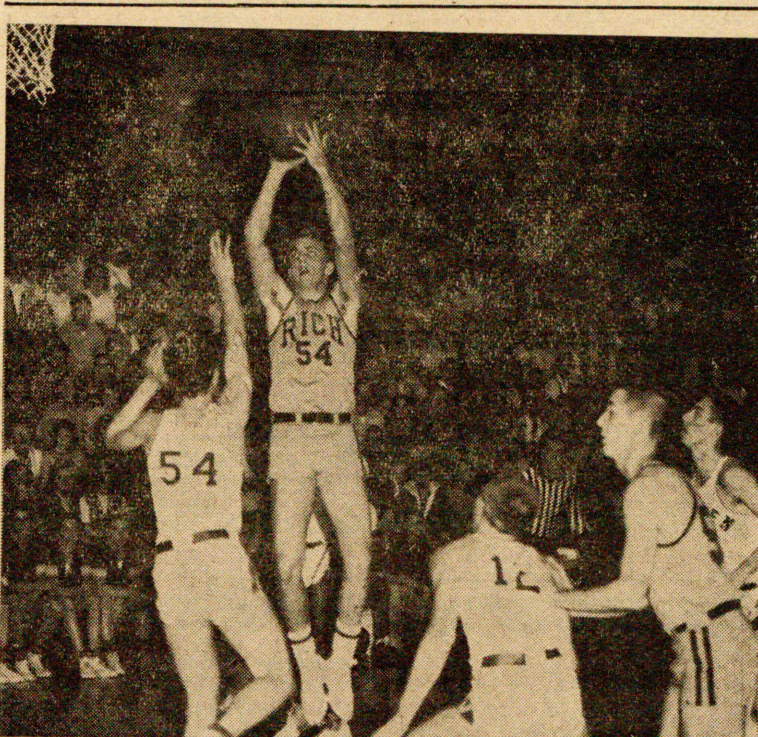

Don Drage, the only outside shooter to do much for Rich, netted six buckets at crucial points in the contest. He is the unsung hero of the Rich outfit this season.

"I think the boys played a great game. They deserve the credit for it," grimaced Brown "but what do you have to do to win?"

Bremen's junior Redmen, as usual, made shambles of the foes—this time Rich, 38-22. The Rich youngsters could score only 8 baskets.

Rodger (50) is getting plenty of competition on this shot from Gorman (53) of Rich. His own man, Przybyla (54) seems to be giving Bob some sort of assistance in this effort.

PHIL WAGNER—(54) Rich high scorer, and the man who broke Bremen's spirit, takes a jump shot. Przybyla (54) moves in to guard him. Bremen's new rebounding "tiger", Jim Mifflin (12), readies for the leap—if Wagner misses.

Argo Edges Down Braves, 48-46

After the brilliant display against Rich on Friday evening, Bremen lost the "down" game to Argo, at Argo, on Saturday evening, 48-46.

Early in the season Bremen had easily beaten Argo, 61-49 at Bremen.

"They put a zone defense on us and our shooting was very cold—in comparison to the season's average," explained Coach Bill Brown of Bremen. The average was still as good as many teams shoot.

Argo bounded away on good shooting and rebounding by the high jumping Parker brothers, to a 16-9 first period advantage. Bremen cut the lead to three points, 28-25, by the half.

The third quarter looked like curtains for the Argonauts as the Braves captured the lead, 36-34.

Argo could score only one basket in this period. However, the Redman spell was broken in the final period and Argo took the game, 48-46.

Bremen's season mark now stands at 3 and 6.

It appears that Brown and company have been able to get Jim Mannion scoring off its new offense. Jim was tied with the leading scorer for Bremen with high scoring center Bob Rodgers. Each of the boys were good for 12 points.

Przybyla is filling a place in the Redmen offense and defense. He scored 9 points and did his share of rebounding. The addition of this lad to the starting five maybe the spark that Bremen needs. Przybyla—sounded like its spelled—is a 6'5" tower.

The passing was not as sharp as it was against Rich, but it was adequate. Not quite enough to win.

"This inexperience is a real bugaboo. As I predicted, we have started better in this month of January. We are expecting to see better basketball this half of the season," he finished.

Friday the Redmen will have to up again if they expect to win. East Aurora is a good team. They are not great—nor as good as West Aurora, but will easily be a big test for Bremen.

Argo frosh-soph gave some competition to a Bremen frosh soph team that had a bad nite Bremen won this game by only, 43-34. John Mannaioni, was top scorer with 16; Ragsdale had 10.

See other page for feature on the Bremen frosh-soph.

Mat Performers from Sandburg Outwrestle Lincoln-Way Team

Friday evening, the Eagles beat the Knights, 33-15, at Orland Park in a lively display of wrestling. Sandburg won easily, but not before Lincoln-Way proved a team of worth.

Unbeaten Cliff Breitharth of Sandburg took Cheatwood of Lincoln-Way in the first match at 95 pounds.

The Miller boys. One of Sandburg and one of Lincoln-Way battled to a draw. They sort of acted like brothers.

Probably the outstanding match of the evening was the battle between Roger Chatlosh and Bill Rogers. Both boys were evenly matched throughout the contest. They wrestle in the 145 pound class.

Chatlosh iced the match in the last 15 seconds with a take down, and added points to Sandburg's total.

Sandburg has won five of its last six wrestling matches. "The schedule favored the Eagles from Sandburg. Lincoln-Ways boys were in many exciting matches but the close ones were won in great style by Sandburg—these are the things that make a winner. Joe Devine's men should get better.

Ron Larsen was not happy to lose, but felt that his boys did a good job. "I made a couple of strategic mistakes. If we had won a couple of the tight matches—this would have been much better on the score end."

West Chicago Wrestling Team is Soundly Beaten by Lincoln-Way

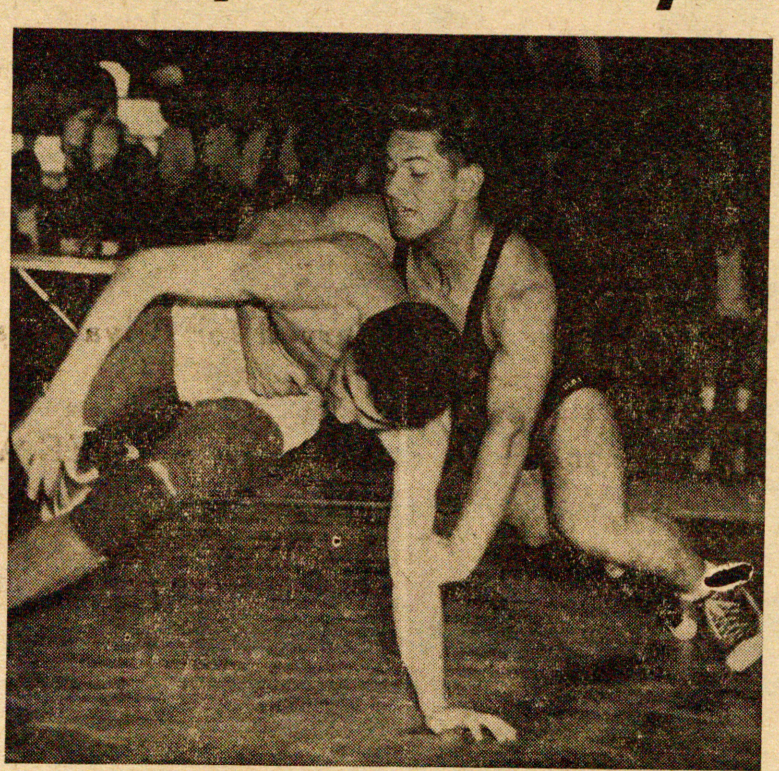

Before the largest crowd in history, Ron Larsen's Lincoln-Way Knights caught the spirit of that crowd and came from behind to easily dispose of West Chicago at New Lenox, 29-17, on Saturday morning.

Bill Delaney produced the first L-Way win by a pin in the 103 pound class.

Tony Santerelli and Ken Zitter, captain, of the Knights, kept things going by pinning opponents, Madison and Daleiden. Lincoln-Way was never headed after this point.

Larsen's former coach at Danville was here for the contest. The coach of West Chicago was also a student of the Danville mentor. They had a grand reunion prior to the match.

This week end Lincoln-Way meets powerful Oak Lawn here at 7 pm. and then on Saturday morning at 10:00, Morris high school will provide the thrills.

NOW UP, NOW DOWN—you can't tell just where you'll be in this high school wrestling. The young man who appears on top at the moment is Dick Bike of Lincoln-Way while his opponent is Bill Thurston of West Chicago. They met in a 138 pound bout in a team match last Saturday at Lincoln-Way.—M. Smith photo Sandburg dropped to a third place tie with Reavis.

Oak Lawn remained unbeaten in defeating Sandburg at home on Friday evening, 60-49.

The Eagles made a struggle of it! Fouls finally proved to be the undoing for Adams men.

Shades of the early season losses dogged the high flying Eagles from Orland Park. At one time in the third quarter, when Oak Lawn was able to ice the contest, Sandburg did not hit on one of ten straight shots. They scored only 3 baskets that quarter.

Recently, the Eagles have not been shooting often, but have been more accurate than at the season's beginning.

"We must have been too high for the game," suggested Adams. "That can cause the shooting to go sour."

"The boys wanted to win. Oak Lawn was a game they have wanted for a couple of weeks and it looked well in grasp until Don Arnold and Barry were saddled with four personal fouls late in the second quarter.

"Borokowski, of Oak Lawn, hurt us when Barry was unable to pressure him in the final half. He scored 16 of the 17 points after Barry had committed the fourth foul.

"The story will be different when the Oak Lawn team comes to Sandburg," assured the Eagle tutor. Hank DeVries scored 20 points for the Oak Lawn outfit, but it was the second half splurge by guard, Borokowski that made the difference between victory and defeat.

Oak Lawn was not getting many good shots but DeVries tip in efforts knocked the Eagles out of flight.

Arnold, Erickson, Schneller, were not tall or spry enough to give the rangy DeVries trouble around the back boards.

Barry and Arnold were two of the top scorers, but their scoring effectiveness was nullified in the second half by four fouls.

Oak Lawn built up a 32-27 lead by the half. But the debacle of 0 for 10 shots from the field for Sandburg, in the third period, gave Oak Lawn the four more points to add to its lead.

"Oak Lawn will not prove much of a match for Rich," confided Adams. "The Oaks are good, but they are not in a class with Rich. Even if they get steamed up, as Bremen did on Friday, they would not have the ability to beat the front runners."

Sandburg continues to surprise with its excellent games. Nothing like they have demonstrated to date was expected. How do they do it? Good defense has been the keynote and just once this season has a team hit more than 60 points over the Eagle defense.

Evergreen Park will test the Sandburg defense on Friday evening at Orland. Evergreen is the one team that can easily reach the 80-point mark. The teams that have beaten Evergreen have out scored them. Sandburg will not be much of a possibility to do thus. So—will the Eagles stop the running Evergreen men?

Eagle Grapplers Overpower Crew From Fractional

Coach Joe Devine's Sandburg wrestling team beat Thornton Fractional on Saturday for a clean sweep of the week end series and season's mark of 5-3, 25-17.

Tony Uzzardo has done some outstanding wrestling for Devine. He has won his last three meets and came through in the Fractional meet with a win, "when we needed it most," smiled Devine.

Probably the outstanding meet of the day was the win by Risner of Sandburg, who beat Mieses of Fractional, 5-1. Mieses is considered one of the best in his class of 103 pounds.

This weekend the Eagles travel to Lockport for a quadrangular meet. Last year this Sandburg team won this meet.

Along with Sandburg will be Champagne, Danville, and the host school, Lockport. Danville is favored to win. They were favored last year, but the Eagle came off with the win.

Adult School

Add 4 New Courses at Sandburg

Four new courses have been added to the offerings of the Carl Sandburg high school adult education program. The second semester program will begin during the first week of February.

Three of the new courses are designed to give further work in "beginning" courses offered during the first semester. Advanced sewing, intermediate typing and intermediate bridge will be offered for those with previous knowledge of subject areas or have had an earlier course. "Cooking for Company" has also been added.

For those who wish to register in person, Tuesday, Jan. 27, is the deadline. The hours that evening will be from 7 to 9 p.m. Registration by mail will be accepted until that time.

In completing the registration, the tuition is payable in advance and Secretary of State Charles F.

should be addressed to: Miss Leona Munzenmaier, Director of Adult Education, Carl Sandburg high school, 133rd and La-Grange Road, Orland Park.

All courses will be taught by Sandburg staff members with the exception of the beginning and intermediate bridge. The bridge classes have a tuition of $15, while the other classes carry a $10 fee.

Once again the well-known bridge teacher Alan Bell of Chicago will be the instructor. He is considered to be among the top tournament bridge players, currently ranked with Leonard Harmon of New York as the best in the nation.

All courses will be held on Tuesday evenings with the exception of Beginning Sewing, which meets on Thursday. A complete listing of the courses is as follows:

Advanced Sewing, Beginning Bridge, Beginning Sewing,

Conversational German, Cooking for Company, Intermediate Bridge, Intermediate Typing and Woodshop.

The beginning bridge class will meet from 7 to 8:30 p.m. with the intermediate bridge class meeting from 8:30-10 p.m. The Conversational German and intermediate typing will meet from 7:30-9:30 p.m. All other classes will meet from 7-10 p.m.

There will be no refunds to students dropping courses unless the office is notified before the third meeting of the class. In the event of a drop out, a $1.00 registration fee will be retained.

Should the registration for a course be insufficient to warrant offering the course, all fees will be fully refunded. Both sewing class and the cooking class will be limited to 16 persons.

Illinois Bell May Discontinue 4-Party Line

Illinois Bell last Friday, Jan. 13, filed a petition asking the Illinois Commerce Commission to allow it to discontinue offering four-party residence phone service to new customers or to present customers who move to new locations. The effective date would be Feb. 9, 1959.

After that date, only one party line would be offered in those areas in which the company's business exchanges. Currently there are 46 towns and cities which do not now have four-party service. In five other communities where it is offered, no customers subscribe to it. Rural party line service will continue to be offered in rural areas.

Over a 17 month period, Illinois Bell plans to offer remaining four-party customers one and two-party service, with the objective of eliminating all four-party service by July 1, 1960.

Funeral Services For Infant Boy Held Saturday

Funeral services for the five-month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Darrough of 88th Avenue, south of 191st st., Mokena, were held in the Brayfield chapel in Sissler, Ill. on Dec. 27.

The baby was found dead in her crib Christmas morning. Death was attributed to a heart condition caused by a rapid increase in weight.

She was one of twin daughters born prematurely Aug. 11, 1958 at Hazel Crest hospital. At birth she weighed 2 pounds 11 oz. The other twin is named Dianne Lea.

The father is a dietary worker at the Tinley Park State hospital and has been living here for the past year.

Child Psychologist To Address Bremen Council Members

The Bremen Council for the Handicapped invites everyone to hear Isaac Jolles, child psychologist, who will speak on Jan. 19 at 8 p.m. in the Central school, Tinley Park.

Mrs. Jolles has been engaged by an association for the development of special education program. This association consists of school districts of Oak Lawn, Blue Island, West Harvey, Posen, Robbins, Lansing, Chicago Heights, and Homewood.

He will discuss testing techniques. There will be a question and answer period. Refreshments will be served.

Supreme Secretary Guest Speaker for Harvey Moose

The first special enrollment ceremony for the new year will take place in the new Harvey Moose Home, 15332 S. Dixie Highway, Sunday, Jan. 18. This affair, in honor of all the past governors of the lodge will be open to candidates wives and members wives and Women Of The Moose, after the actual enrollment of new members. The supreme secretary will be the principal speaker.

Delores Senecal of Tinley Park is child care chairman of Harvey Chapter 811, Women Of The Moose and she held her Chapter Night Jan. 6.

JOHN W. ALLEN
(So. Ill. Univ.)

With the disappearance of rural schoolhouses, many of the practices and customs that clustered about them also are vanishing. An old poster evidently designed and lettered by a pupil was found by the writer in one of these deserted buildings. It announced a PIE SUPPER ("S" reversed) would be held at the school on a Friday night in November 1923.

Don't ask how it came to be preserved for 35 years on an almost inaccessible upper shelf of a corner closet. The reversed capital surely had some part in its first being laid there.

Pie suppers along with some similar affairs called box suppers were annual events. Some energetic teachers would hold one of each in the year. They definitely were fund raising affairs.

Shortly after dark on the night named, people would begin to gather in the school that would be lighted for the occasion with kerosene lamps borrowed from neighboring housewives. Careful teachers saw to it that their schoolrooms looked as attractive as possible.

Girls from 6 to 60 brought pies, and in each box or plate a number was placed. The name and a corresponding number then were registered on a list. The identity of the pie owner was kept secret in this manner, except for those in the know. Along with the pies some woman who had been given the privilege brought a cake that would be sold to select the prettiest girl. There also would be a pair of 10 cent socks for the man with the dirtiest feet; sometimes a small mirror for the ugliest man.

A short entertainment program would be offered. The teacher of the school or a school director would then explain that the purpose of the sale was to raise money to buy library books, maps, or some other equipment for the school; it might even be an organ. Anyway, it was something that the directors evaded buying or for which their meager funds were not sufficient.

At this point the one crying the sale would take over. This "auctioneer" often was one of the school directors or some local man who secretly yearned to spiel. An occasional teacher would conduct his own sale. The writer once took over and finished one auction after the person duly selected, having abundantly "fortified" himself for the occasion, became somewhat unsteady.

People enjoyed these pie suppers. Two young men in our vicinity made a specialty of attending them for many miles around. They literally were pie supper specialists. It was their custom to be present at the very beginning of the sale and to make an opening bid on each pie, generally 35 cents. This was not so bad as it sounds, for pies could be bought at the bakery, if one went to the county seat, for 10 cents each.

If some girl, knowing her pie, revealed that fact in some manner or some local swain instantly countered with a higher bid, the "specialist" stayed in to continue bidding and thus to harass the boyfriend, trying always to judge just when to quit. On one such occasion one of the "specialists" bought a pie for 75 cents, which topped the funds the boyfriend had available. After the sale, this girl's admirer came and wanted to buy the lucky number for $2 on credit. The sale was made, with delayed payment made as promised. The wedding came several months later. These two pie specialists sometimes misjudged the time to quit bidding and accordingly would find themselves with a surplus of pies.

The prettiest girl sale was by votes of one cent each. This feature occasionally became very animated and added considerably to the proceeds. On one occasion the cake brought almost a hundred dollars, resulted in three fights and left a standing feud between the boys of the two competing communities. (No regrets)

Do schools still have pie suppers? I'd like to attend another one.

Couple Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary at Tombstone Ariz.

By VIRGINIA SASS
New Lenox 3133

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gee celebrated their golden wedding Christmas Eve at a family gathering and anniversary dinner in the Historic Court House in Tombstone, Arizona. All of their immediate family were present for the occasion: Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gee and children Nancy, David and Carol of Denver; Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Gee of El Cerrito, California; Mr. and Mrs. Emery Gee and daughter Caroline Ann of San Leandro, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller of Tombstone, Ariz.; Mrs. Miller is the former Miss Mary Gee; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gee and children Kathleen and Annette of Tucson; and Howard Gee, who is a pilot with the Aloha Lines at Honolulu. Howard's wife, Phyllis, was unable to be present.

Caroline Eva Lauffer and Albert Gee were married Feb. 22, 1909 in Chicago. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Lauffer. Shortly after their marriage the couple moved on a homestead near Bovina, Colo. They lived in Colorado for many years until the early 1940s, when they moved to Arizona. For a while they lived at Saint David and then Douglas, where they now reside.

Mrs. Gee is a sister of Mrs. Louis Sass and Fred Lauffer of Marley and Mrs. Norman Armstrong of Indian Rocks, Beach, Florida.

Mrs. Alma Brown opened her home to the Marley Woman's club Thursday afternoon. She was assisted by Mrs. John Peciniak. Dessert-coffee was served from a lace covered table at 1:30 o'clock. The president, Mrs. Charles Elliott, presided. Mrs. Royal Corp led the group in the pledge to the flag. Routine reports were heard. The program, Civil Air Defense was presented by Mrs. John Riley and Mrs. Leo Shields. A quiz was conducted by Mrs. Shields, who presented a prize to the winner, Mrs. Ray Hamer. The hostesses for February will be Mrs. Glenn Smith and Mrs. Henry Volz.

The Marley Mother's club will meet Jan. 23 at 2:45 p. m. with Mrs. Geo. Yapp. A silent bake auction will be held.

The annual business meeting of the Marley church was held in the church Sunday, Jan. 11 following a pot luck dinner. Annual reports were heard from the various organizations. A budget was adopted for 1959. Officers elected were: Harwood Stellwagen, church clerk; Charles Sass, treasurer; Mrs. Ray Hamer, Sunday school superintendent; Garrett Cummins, deacon; Mrs. Russell Lauffer, deaconess; Francis Nelson, trustee; Cecil Hale, finance committee member; and Mrs. Mary Griffin, member of Missions board.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rowley of Plainfield were visitors Sunday afternoon of Mrs. Adelle Sproat.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eaton and daughter Tobv of Elwood were guests Sunday afternoon of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. George Vogt and family of Allegan, Mich., were overnight guests Sunday in the Frank Liszt home.

Mrs. Charles Elliott attended the meeting of the Calvin Auxiliary in the home of Mrs. Howard Peyton in Chicago, Tuesday.

The Twelve Trumps met with Mrs. Leo Shields Wednesday night with Mrs. George Bean as hostess. Mrs. Alma Balaz was a guest. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Shields, Mrs. Charles Elliott and Mrs. Otto Moravec. The group will meet with Mrs. Herman Benck in Feb.

Mrs. Carl Wegner is a patient in St. Josephs hospital in Joliet.

The Missionary society will meet Wednesday, Jan. 21 at 1:30 p. m. in the parsonage. Le-more Hamer will conduct the installation service. From Whence Cometh My Help. Officers for the new year are: president, Eleanor Nelson; vice president, Fran Tilsy; secretary, Roberta Walker, treasurer and Caroline Tilsy. The hostesses for the meeting will be Lenore Hamer, Fran Tilsy, Ruth Hale, Isabel Tilsy and Pat Binion.

The Freeman Fellowship and the Marley BYF will meet in the church at 8 o'clock Sunday night, Jan. 18.

The new official board of the Marley church will meet in the church Wednesday night, January 21.

2-Year Old Blue Law Suit Goes To Circuit Court

(CNS) Judge Thomas E. Kluczynski of Circuit court has been assigned to hear the two year old lawsuit challenging South Holland's Sunday closing ordinance, a case returned by the Appellate court. It's the case—others attacking the Blue Law are pending in court—in which the late Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher ruled that three South Holland businessmen may stay open Sundays. The village appealed.

The points Judge Kluczynski must decide are these, are written in the Appellate court opinion that tossed the case back to the trial court:

"The Circuit Court found the ordinance inapplicable to the three plaintiffs, but did not certify that public interest required a direct appeal to the state Supreme Court."

"We cannot discern from the phrasing of the order entered by the trial courts whether its ruling was based up-

Movies of Club Activities and Flowers Viewed by Garden Club

By Delores Anderson
New Lenox 3651

Mrs. Thorval Larsen opened her home Jan 8 to the first meeting of the New Lenox Garden club, of the new year.

The program was given by Mrs. O. V. Rowe, who showed colored movies on club activities and outstanding flowers from the gardens of the following club members: Mrs. Robert Buckler, Mrs. Thorval Larsen, Mrs. Ben Martin, Mrs. Elwood, Mrs. Rowe, Mrs. Lee Frey, Mrs. Robert Regan, Mrs. Frank Vally Mrs. George Close, Mrs. Max Greenley, Mrs. Harry Ittersagen, Mrs. William Long, Mrs. James Hope, Mrs. Lawrence Carlson, Mrs. Albert Schumli, Mrs. Ray Hamer, Mrs. Joseph Jencon, Mrs. Roy Fitzer, Mrs. George Morrison and Mrs. Nick Skiniotes.

Mrs. Reiter gave a detailed report of the program from the Flower Show school which she and Mrs. Walter Houchin had attended recently.

Hostesses assisting Mrs. Larsen were, Mrs. Everett Mersfeld, and Mrs. George Close. Mr and Mrs. Roman Kassian and daughters Helen and Roma have returned on a construction of the Constitution or upon a finding that three of the plaintiffs came within the emergency needs exclusion of the applicable provision of the ordinance.

Judge Fisher's order did not find the ordinance unconstitutional. He held they have the right to conduct their businesses on Sunday without the necessity of establishing the existence of an emergency. The ordinance, enacted June 26, 1956, prohibits business activity on Sunday but contains a provision allowing business on that day "to meet emergency needs."

The three businessmen are Aloysius Cisek, owner of Starlite motel, Chester Bittner owner of House of Pizza, and John Nickeula, operator of One-Six Shell Service station. A hearing for Jan. 5, Judge Kluczynski has scheduled a hearing for Jan. 5.

Illinois Failing Responsibility In Care for Mentally Retarded

Illinois is failing its grave responsibility for helping mentally retarded citizens leading useless lives, a special state commission has reported to Gov. William G. Stratton. The Illinois Commission on Mental Retardation asserted that a shocking neglect of the critical needs of retarded children persists in the state. Unless immediate steps are taken to correct dangerous overcrowding and to provide sufficient staff and facilities, the "present deplorable situation" will continue to get worse, declared the report.

Mrs. Barbara Smiley of Peoria was chairman of the commission, composed of public and private agencies, as well as state legislators, which was appointed by Gov. Stratton in Sept. 1957. The governor directed the commission to "study the needs of Illinois' mentally retarded and recommend a state-wide program."

The commission found that Illinois is woefully inadequate in all four areas of its inquiry—the overloaded, undermanned state institutions; public school facilities for retarded children capable of learning; local community provisions; and research into the causes of retardation.

Mental retardation may result from a lack of development or injury to the brain cells before, during, or after birth, and should not be confused with mental illness, the report noted.

Among major points in the report, which also was distributed to state legislators: 1. Only eight states spend less per patient for personnel and patient-care facilities than Illinois does at its two schools for the retarded at Lincoln and Dixon.

2. Right now, Illinois needs 4,500 additional beds to reduce overcrowding at the two schools and accommodate 1,432 persons on waiting lists. Of those on waiting lists, 612 are under 6 years of age, 666 are between 6 and 18, and 154 are older than 18.

3. By 1970, if population increases continue, the state will face a need for 6,000 additional beds for the retarded.

4. There are "severe" staff shortages at Lincoln and Dixon. It is conservatively estimated that staffs should be doubled just to provide minimum care. Now, residents are receiving "herd" care at the institutions. On many shifts, there is only one employee to care for 100 dependent or nearly dependent residents.

5. Six new small residential institutions should be built in the areas of Chicago, East St. Louis, Champaign, Carbondale, Alton and Galesburg.

6. Illinois' public schools have no facilities for 75 per cent of the educable retarded and 93 per cent of the trainable. The educable mentally retarded person, according to the commission report, is one whose rate of mental development has been retarded from birth, or an early age, but whom may be expected to profit from educational facilities designed to help him attain a level of competency adequate for social and occupational adjustment in the community.

(The trainable mentally retarded person is one whose rate of mental development has been so retarded from birth, or an early age, that he is unable to benefit from the facilities designed for the educable mentally retarded person. He may, however, be expected to profit from training in a group setting. Such training should be designed to help him attain self-care, social adjustment, and economic usefulness—at home, or in a sheltered environment.)

The report pointed out that Lincoln is 39.7 per cent overcrowded and Dixon 49.7 per cent, according to the minimum standards of the Illinois Department of Public Health. Furthermore, expenditure of $21,000,000 will be required to modernize the two institutions, and this without relieving overcrowding.

Nearly seven out of every 10 residents at the state schools are diagnosed as severely retarded and totally dependent, many with serious physical impairment, such as blindness, in addition to mental retardation. These patients tend to remain permanently in the institutions.

Educational, occupational and rehabilitation programs at the schools are "practically non-existent" stated the commission, due to staff shortages and lack of facilities.

The proposed regional institutions would provide facilities for persons six years of age and older. Younger children would be cared for at Lincoln and Dixon and at the planned Pediatric Hospital in Chicago.

It was stressed throughout the report that local public schools must recognize the need for providing specialized classes for retarded youngsters capable of learning. Also, the commission stressed that no community day-care centers exist in Illinois, except those provided by parents. The community must assume a greater share of caring for and educating its mentally retarded, the report emphasized.

In addition to independent commission studies, recommendations of 38 private and public agencies were considered by the commission before making its report to the governor.

Members of the famed Liederkranz chorus comes from the neighboring communities of Oak Forest, Midlothian, Riverdale, Blue Island, Dolton, Harvey, Evergreen Park, Roseland and Homewood, Ind.

The chorus extends an invitation to all interested singers to join them. Passive members are also welcome.

Longer School Year

Sandburg Program for Better Education

Several new features have been added to the Carl Sandburg high school program this year which should pay dividends in the education of boys and girls. One of these is an increase in the number of days in the school year.

The state requires all schools to operate for a minimum total of 185 days each year. However, there are a number of legal holidays on which schools are dismissed but students are counted as present and the day counted as part of the 185. If Labor Day, Veteran's Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year's, Lincoln's Birthday, Memorial Day and Good Friday fall on a week day, they are counted as part of the 185 required minimum number of days. In addition, teacher's institute days etc. are counted as days of school altho no students are in attendance.

Thus, it is possible that a school could be in session, with students in attendance, less than 173 days and still meet the state minimum requirement of 185 days. Last spring the board of education tackled this problem and after serious discussion, adopted a calendar for the 1958-59 school term in which 183 days are listed in which children will be in classrooms working.

This means that an additional two weeks of classroom work will be given to each child each year. In addition, all students were required to pick up their textbooks, locker assignments, class assignments, and pay fees prior to the beginning of school so that actual classroom work could begin on the first day of school. This added three more teaching days to the class schedule without lengthening the year. A major effort has been made by the school administration to eliminate all non-teaching school days so as to make every day count.

It is anticipated that this program will provide each classroom teacher with additional time to cover the material in the classroom and to provide the extras that a crowded schedule so often eliminates. It is expected that the freshman class will receive the equivalent of four years and a quarter of work in the four years of attendance at Carl Sandburg high school prior to graduation in 1963.

This program was adopted as part of the continuing policy of the school's administrative staff to find ways and means to make the educational program at Carl Sandburg high school outstanding. However, it is disappointing, school officials said, when on the day before Christmas vacation began, to find that more than 200 students were kept home by parents.

Good attendance is a necessary prerequisite for success at a school. The education of boys and girls is a cooperative project involving both the school and the parent, it was pointed out. If the school accepts the responsibility for boys and girls from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. for 183 days, it would appear that the parents have a major responsibility in seeing that the child is in regular attendance, school officials declared.

Business and Finance

MAURICE P. ANGLAND

The well organized and very well financed large labor organizations were most successful in the last congressional elections.

No previous group of labor leaders have ever had such political power in this country. This power is in the hands of the leaders of the mass unions rather than the craft unions.

If, as cynics expect, the wage price spiral continues and there is an increase in national, state and local spending, the small but steady erosion of the purchasing power of the dollar, will continue and increase. This will pinch harder against the mass of the public not members of these organized labor groups with steadily political opposition.

If the pattern goes as expected, there will be a considerable effort to control prices thru propaganda pressures as well as legal efforts. History is replete with efforts to control prices to cover economic sins, but without success except under a dictatorship.

In a free, competitive economy, to control prices, production must also be controlled. Prices could be controlled if all firms in a given industry had equal managerial ability, equal costs and location as to markets and raw materials, equally efficient machinery and plant, etc.

If legislative efforts at price controls are had -- regardless of the guise under which it is achieved -- the prices will likely be set at a level where most firms in the field show a profit. This will enable the better organized and better managed firms to show a considerable profit. In quest of even larger over-all profits, the most efficient will absorb the least efficient to secure their markets until only a few dominate.

To stop this absorption process, the pattern is to try "inventory control" for purpose of policing the industry. The usual result of this, are "hidden inventories". In most firms there is a percentage of capacity where that firm operates at its most efficient point. There usually are several manufacturing steps prior to the finished product being offered on the market. The efficient firm under such inventory control will simply not take the final manufacturing steps with regard to that portion of production which exceeds its "allowable" inventory. This semi-finished inventory is then, in effect, a "hidden inventory" awaiting only final steps to be a marketable product. Result of this is a number of "hidden inventories" and a desire of each firm to convert these inventories into cash with greater or lesser pressure to do so on the part of each firm. Final result is a break in the prices of this industry with possible wide spread and world wide effects in some industries.

The above condition was seen clearly in the crash of 1929. European firms operating under the "cartel system" had acquired large hidden inventories which came on the market when Schacht of Germany was resisting German

Giant Ice Box

Glaciers Keep 49th State Cool

BY ROBERT MANN
(Cook County Forest Preserve)

Alaska, our newest and largest state, was purchased from Russia in 1867 for only $7,200,000. That huge peninsula has an area of 586,400 square miles -- more than twice the area of Texas and almost one-fifth of the whole United States. It is a treasure chest of vast wealth in gold, silver, copper, platinum and other important metals; of coal and petroleum; of fishes and furs; of forests, fertile soils and magnificent scenery. As our last frontier, it has become of vital strategic importance in our national defense.

Alaska was a rare bargain. Obtained largely thru the insistent efforts of William H. Seward, secretary of state, but most of its great natural resources were unknown then. The American people, opposed to the purchase, scornfully called it "Seward's Folly", "Walrusia", "Polaria", and a "giant icebox".

In a way, it is an icebox. There are thousands of glaciers -- some of them immense -- in four great mountain ranges. More than a fourth of Alaska lies above the Arctic Circle which passes thru Fort Yukon, only 1,630 miles from the North Pole. Further, except for a relatively narrow fringe along the Pacific and Bering Sea coasts as far as the mouth of the mighty Yukon, the land is underlain with rock-hard permafrost.

Permafrost is the name given by geologists to permanently frozen ground, and it is responsible for some unique phenomena. Near its southern limit the depth is only a few feet, and each year enough of the upper portion thaws to permit tree growth and bountiful harvests of hardy crops. Above the Arctic Circle, where there is an enormous area of tundra -- bleak treeless plains known as the Barren Grounds -- permafrost extends two or three hundred feet below the surface, and only the topmost few inches ever thaw during the brief arctic summers.

At Nome, a gold mining town about 130 miles south of the Arctic Circle, the permafrost heaves and shifts during all seasons, and its surface becomes mushy or like quicksand in summer. A house may tilt one way and then the other but most of them are built on big skids that may be jacked up and kept level. Otherwise, walls cannot be plastered, doors won't close, and pipe lines break. On a slope they creep downhill. The federal building, altho supported by pilings driven deep into the frozen subsoil, has shifted so much that it must be replaced. Beneath Nome's new school, refrigerating pipes were installed to keep the permafrost from thawing.

The tundra, except for a few low mountains and a few shallow meandering streams, is a vast flat prairie spangled with innumerable lakes, ponds, marshes and muskeg bogs; because none of its small annual precipitation can seep into the permafrost. During nine months of the year, in addition to a few musk oxen, ptarmigan and snowshoe hares, there are innumerable lemmings, small rodents which furnish food for foxes, wolves and snowy owls. As the snow and ice melt, its carpet of lichens and mosses becomes visible. Then it comes alive with millions upon millions of birds, especially shorebirds and waterfowl. In June it burgeons with green, and is gorgeously covered with plants that swiftly grow, bloom and make seed in the few weeks when there is warmth and no darkness. By late September the land again is white and desolate.

provement association is holding its annual membership drive for rural people. Information about membership can be obtained at the Farm Bureau office. This organization is currently engaged in a program to interest more capable and qualified girls to enter the nursing profession. This is done through offering scholarships to outstanding candidates as an incentive for them to take up nursing. Carol Siemsen of Tinley Park, is taking nurses training under this program, which was initiated two years ago. The association is interested in sponsoring other nursing scholarships. Surely, some of our 4-H girls would find this an interesting career. The knowledge of nurses is always valuable, even though they may not continue as full time nurses. This could be invaluable in time of national or local disaster.

The association is also supporting the 4-H Camping program by paying the fees of adult counselors.

Members of the Health Improvement association board from this area are: George DeVries, Evergreen Park, president; and Charles Erickson, Mokena, director.

By the time you read this column, the program will be over and new club officers will have returned to their homes and clubs, full of enthusiasm and ideas to make them better officers during the coming year.

Worth PTA Seeks Help Of Former Members

The Worth School Parent Teacher Association will mark its 25th anniversary shortly; having been organized in Mar. of 1934. The charter was granted in April of that year.

It is the desire of the present board, under the leadership of President Mrs. Philip Ralston, to have an outstanding program in celebration of the founding, at the Feb. 10 meeting. This can be accomplished only through the co-operation of former officers and members. Will any who may have been active in the PTA at Worth School in the past please, contact either Mrs. Ralston at Gibson 8-4382, or Program Chairman Mrs. Ralph Sickles at Gibson 8-1215. Any little bit of information that you might pass on may help to make a more interesting program.

Those of you who missed the Jan. P.T.A. meeting missed much needed and worthwhile information for the present and future.

The business portion of the program was called to order with Mrs. Kenneth Schmudde leading the audience in the pledge of allegiance, followed by the parent teacher prayer. Minutes of the last meeting and board meeting report were read by Mrs. Noel Gibbons. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. C. R. Lillie. Room count was taken by Mrs. William Owens and the winner of the Bert Fulton school was Room 111. There was a tie at the Central school of Room 101 and Room 111. Reports were made on member ship by Mrs. Allen Howie and on publications by Mrs. William Wallenbecker. Mrs. Harold Peterson announced a parent education class beginning Feb. 12 at 8 p.m. More information on this class will be given at a later date. The local delegate to the council, Mrs. Harold Clement, gave a report on the last council meeting. Mrs. Robert Rich was elected to serve on the nominating committee.

The highlight of the program was guest speaker, Dr. Franklin Fitch, introduced by Mrs. Walter Barton. This was a golden opportunity for parents and it was a disappointment that more didn't take advantage of it. The doctor's talk was one that all could understand and use and the film shown threw an entirely different light on the subject; "Let's Learn About Human Growth."

Refreshments were served by the fifth grade mothers and the bake sale was conducted by the fourth grade mothers. Doctor Seith, home economics teacher of Carl Sandburg high school was guest speaker last Thursday evening at the Doctor school P.T.A. Her topic was, "The American Family in a Changing World".

A rummage sale will be held at the old Doctor school Jan. 31 beginning at 9:30 a.m. A scrap paper etc. drive will also be conducted from now until the 31st.

Anyone having anything to donate to either the rummage or scrap drive should contact Mrs. Charles Stewart, Fieldbership by Mrs. Allen Howie and on publications by Mrs. William Wallenbecker.

Mrs. Harold Peterson announced a parent education class beginning Feb. 12 at 8 p.m. More information on this class will be given at a later date. The local delegate to the council, Mrs. Harold Clement, gave a report on the last council meeting. Mrs. Robert Rich was elected to serve on the nominating committee.

The highlight of the program was guest speaker, Dr. Franklin Fitch, introduced by Mrs. Walter Barton. This was a golden opportunity for parents and it was a disappointment that more didn't take advantage of it. The doctor's talk was one that all could understand and use and the film shown threw an entirely different light on the subject; "Let's Learn About Human Growth."

Refreshments were served by the fifth grade mothers and the bake sale was conducted by the fourth grade mothers. Doctor Seith, home economics teacher of Carl Sandburg high school was guest speaker last Thursday evening at the Doctor school P.T.A. Her topic was, "The American Family in a Changing World".

A rummage sale will be held at the old Doctor school Jan. 31 beginning at 9:30 a.m. A scrap paper etc. drive will also be conducted from now until the 31st.

Royal Neighbors to Install New Officers in Meeting at Church

By ELIZABETH B. ANDERSON
Lockport 886W2

At the meeting Dec. 4, the Good Luck Camp of Royal Neighbors held the annual election of officers with these results: oracle, Gladys Kesser; vice-oracle, Mary Welter; past oracle, Theresa Hemphill; chancellor, Anna White; recorder, Madelein Welter; re-deliver, Hattie White; marshal, Marie Welter; inner sentinel, Gertrude Healthwick; outer sentinel, Ida Daley; manager, for three year term, Iva Jungles; faith, Evelyn Welter; modesty, Kate Wies; unselfishness, Mary Konow; endurance, Margaret Dollinger; courage, Mary White; publicity, Jennie Ott.

The next meeting will be held today, Jan. 15 in the Homer church social rooms, with Mesdames Anna Daley, Ida Daley, Mary Welter and Margaret Kettman, hostesses. The customary business meeting with installation of officers, followed by games and sociability will occupy the afternoon.

Approximately 25 relatives and friends surprised Otto Konow Jr. at his home on Homer rd Wednesday evening in honor of his birthday which he was celebrating that day. Supper, games and gifts filled a very pleasant evening. Guests were present from Homer, Lockport and Joliet.

Mesdames Ralph Waldvogel, F. J. Paddock, John Hollister, Robert Shepherd Sr., John White, H. M. Finley and L. E. Storm were the representatives of Homer church at the annual election and program of the Lockport council of church women at the Evangelical Covenant church last Monday. Mrs. White was appointed mission chairman of the group. Mrs. Finley gave an interesting account of the National Council meeting which she attended in Denver, Colo. in the fall.

The Couples' club of Homer church was entertained in the Wrey White home Friday evening. A good attendance and a good time was noted. Tentative plans for a smorgasbord supper to be held in April were discussed. The next meeting will be at John Hollister's, Feb. 13.

Frank Townsend was a business visitor in Decatur two days last week.

Tom Townsend has returned to his base at Camp Chaffee, Ark., after spending Christmas with his family here.

Jane Vancil of Downers Grove was the guest of her cousins, the Ray Carlson family, Thursday and Friday of last week. Lana Carlson visited Ruth Vancil during the same period.

Permits for five new homes in Homer township have recently been granted. Four of them will be erected on 114th place, near Rickerman and Smith sts., by the Small Homes Corp. of Joliet and one will be built by Theodore H. Braschler of Palos Heights, on the east side of King road north of 143rd. It will be a six room brick to cost $30,000. The smaller homes will average about $6,700.

A woman's auxiliary for the Homer Fire Protection district got off to a good start Thursday evening when they met in the town hall and elected the following officers: president, Mrs. Frank Paul; vice president, Mrs. Earl Burnworth; secretary, Mrs. Merda Dodie; treasurer, Mrs. Ann Tuider; liaison officer, Mrs. Frank Townsend; Sgt.-at-arms, Mrs. Frank Morris; directors, Mrs. Alvin Welter, Mrs.

Theodore Grimm and Mrs. George Platte, Mrs. F. R. Liggett and Mrs. Earl Olsen of the N-West Homer Fire Dept., were present to help with the organization. The group plan to meet the first Monday evening of each month.

Tickets were distributed for a Valentine's Day dance to be sponsored by the fire department at Goodings Grove hall Feb. 14, for the benefit of the building fund.

Mrs. Robert Shepherd Sr. attended a meeting of Federated Club clubs in Chicago Saturday.

Sunday, Jan. 18, the Rev. Reynolds of the Berwyn Congregational church will exchange pulpits with the Rev. Wm. Hanson. Rev. Reynolds has made many friends here in former visits and at camp last summer.

The missionary society of Homer church will meet in the church, 1 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 23, with Mrs. John Loucks and Mrs. Wrey White as hostesses. A blind auction will be an extra feature; members are asked to bring a "white elephant", bakery goods, or anything saleable for the auction.

The trustees held their regular monthly meeting at Robert Burch's last Tuesday evening; the diocese met the previous week at the church.

John Fuerst, who has been a faithful delivery man in this area for Will-Dupage Service Co. for many years, returned to his Joliet home Saturday from Michael Reese hospital, Chicago, where he underwent eye surgery Jan. 2. He is recovering nicely and the operation is thought to have been successful.

Extend Time for Purchase of City Vehicle Stickers Until Feb. 15

By CHLOE WHITE
Sycamore 8-6620

The city council announces that a grace period has been established for the purchase of vehicle tags. Tags may be purchased from the city clerk, Mrs. Virginia Bennison, 4730 181st street until Feb. 15. The council is working to establish a police department in the near future to enforce these ordinances.

Country Club Hills continues to grow at an amazing rate. Unit IV, just south of 186th st., has 12 new residents with more moving in each week.

The city now has 655 homes and more are being built in Unit IV in addition to Plats for Units VII and VIII which have been filed with the plan commission.

New residents in the community are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Testroet, 18708 Baker ave.; Mr. and Mrs. John F. Cooper, 18716 Baker ave.; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon E. Jossy, 18724 Baker ave.; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dezelick, 18763 Baker ave.; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mosehead, 18767 Baker ave.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Ambrose, 18749 Baker ave.; Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Mills, 18748 Baker ave.; Mr. and Mrs. William Crompton, 18741 Baker ave.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rickard, 18733 Baker ave.; Mr. and Mrs. James Jurgensen, 4440 W. 188th st.; Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Shostak, 18756 Baker ave.; Mr. and Mrs. Harold V. Watts, 18725 Baker ave.; and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Palumbo, 18717 Baker. The Palumbo's have been living in our community and have now moved into their own home.

Augustino Cuppari, animal control warden, states that dogs that are running loose are being picked up and if your dog is missing call him at SY 8-9263. The dogs will only be kept three days after which they will be lost. The ordinance states that the fine will be $2 plus expenses. Dogs must be on a leash or on your own property.

Thanks to negotiations by Alderman Ray Gaertner, Rich Township has agreed to sand and cinder the roads in Unit III. The taxes from this section of Country Club Hills are paid to Rich Township. Bremen Township, which covers Units I and II has been performing this service in their area.

For its January meeting, the Country Club Hills PTA will present four of the teachers from the schools in the community, who will describe the reading program as it is applied from kindergarten thru the eighth grade level.

The panel discussion will be moderated by Supt. Zenon Sykuta. Members of the panel will be Edith Huckins, Hazel Ramseyer, Richard Higgins and Margaret Fitzgerald.

The meeting will be at the Thomas Lane school, 17940 Thomas Lane, and will begin at 8 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 15.

The child that can read easily and effectively has taken a large step forward to a successful future in his education. This meeting will show how our schools teach reading and what material the children will read in each grade.

Those who attend the meeting will have the opportunity of finding out what is required of the children and what can be done in the home to increase both the desire and the capacity to read well.

After the panel discussion there will be a question and answer period, casual discussion and refreshments served by the kindergarten mothers will round out the evening.

School District 160

The new school building is coming along at a rapid pace. The roof is on and partitions between class rooms are in the process of being installed.

As the families begin to move into Unit IV the Baker street schools are enrolling more students. Twelve new students have been enrolled so far with the influx expected to be greater by the time the Unit is completed, sometime in April.

Mr. Sykuta, superintendent, announces that Mr. Harold Jones, one of the junior high teachers at Central School, is attending a series of meetings held at Bremen township high school. The series, especially for elementary teachers, is on the subject of general science and is given to add more scope to the science course already offered.

The program for Junior high classes is being expanded to include art and other subjects. This program is not completed as yet so more information will be forthcoming.

Woman's Club

The Woman's Club of Country Hills held its first installation of officers last Wednesday night at Central school. Taking over the reins of the organization were Lillian Thomas as president, Edna Thacker, vice president; Barbara Coultas, secretary and Marie Yunker, treasurer.

The business meeting was followed by refreshments.

All the members are working to make their first dance, the Cupid's Ball, a huge success. The dance is to be held in Saenger hall, Tinley Park, Feb. 7. Music will be provided by the Musical-Tones aggregation. Tickets may be purchased from members or at the door.

Meetings of this newly formed Woman's club are held the first Wednesday of the month at Central school and all women of the community are invited to attend.

Teen Club

There will be a regular meeting of the Teen club Saturday night in the Thomas Lane school at 7:30 p.m. There will be an election and installation of officers. Only those members who have had their petitions properly filled

United Christian Church

There is going to be a pot-luck supper and "family fun night" for members and their friends on Sunday, Jan. 18 at the Flossmoor Community church community house, Carroll and Huchison, at Flossmoor, beginning at 5 o'clock.

The Joanna Circle is in charge of the dinner and will make alphabetical assignments for food.

The Junior Christian Fellowship group which is made up of pupils in the 4th, 5th and 6th grades are planning a program for their parents to be given later this month. The children are making their own actors for puppet shows, there will also be sketches and music.

A teen-age youth group is being formed and will hold their first meeting on Jan. 25. This will be a supper meeting which will be held at the parsonage.

Choir will meet on Friday this week because of the PTA meeting. The choir is progressing nicely but could still use some men's voices.

Civic Association

There will be a meeting of the Civic Association on Monday, Jan. 19, in the Thomas Lane school at 8 o'clock.

Miscellany

A surprise baby shower was given last Saturday night for Pat Duerinck, expecting her fifth child. Pearl Shaffner was the hostess. Guests were Reva Hoewing, Bethanne Schwenk, Adrey Noyes, Gloria Armistead, Jane Wulf, Allene Etheridge, Shirley Landenberger, Charlotte Moran, Bette Wilson, Barbara Hogue, Evelyn Van Horn, Barbara Biddle, Chloe White and Jan Van Epp.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson and their three children spent the holidays with their families in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mrs. Charlene Eggers and daughter Sharon have returned from holiday visits to Independence, Missouri and St. Louis.

Mrs. Raymond Gaertner entertained Mrs. LaVerne Hubbard of Los Angeles, Mrs. Kate Kirk of Western Springs and Mrs. Marian Michalek of Downers Grove at luncheon last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lemon and two children of Kankakee, spent Sunday with Mrs. Lemon's sister Mrs. Mary Lupien. Mrs. Lemon, an organist, enjoyed a busman's holiday listening to her sister play

That Integration Question Again

One of the Mokena churches has distributed a questionnaire among its members to get their views on interracial relations.

Interracial is the term used in the questionnaire but what is meant is the relation between whites and negroes. So far as Mokena and the other communities of the area are concerned such a subject is as yet purely theoretical.

There are no negroes here now so many answers to the questionnaire undoubtedly would be influenced by that fact. Whether negroes will figure in the population at some future time is another question. We would suppose that eventually they will be.

The church, from some of the questions asked, would prepare the community for their acceptance. Perhaps preparation is needed. We don't know.

It is our belief that too much emphasis is being placed on racial relations. There are negroes who make a profession out of being negroes and there are whites who make a profession of being white and do quite well financially as a result.

We believe that if left alone the two races will reach an accord. But we don't believe it can be forced. You can't legislate beliefs any more than you can legislate success or prosperity.

We believe that in time that integration in the schools will be accepted, in the north as well as the south, but it will not be accomplished overnight or thru decree. The races can be compelled to attend the same school and those who have brought about such action can pat their own backs and tell the world that integration has arrived. But it wouldn't mean a thing.

Forced integration, in our opinion, will only serve to widen or create a gulf between the races. If left alone to work out the problem themselves we believe that an honest understanding can be reached and an exchange of the better qualities of the two peoples will result with benefit to both.

Some persons are mixing integration with social acceptance and the two do not necessarily follow. The fact that people attend the same school or the same church, or live in the same town or belong to the same political party doesn't mean they are one big happy family or mingle socially.

Cliques and groups are set up and formed. People usually are drawn together thru mutual interests or as a result of their cultural backgrounds. Water seeks its own level. So do people.

On Second Thot

by GLENN F. LOGAN

The late P. T. Barnum, showman and producer extraordinary and forerunner of today's hucksters, was quite a student of human nature, as practitioners of the promotional arts must be.

There is no doubt that he had worries and problems but lack of customers was not one of them. Years of contact with the public and observation of its reactions to his offerings prompted utterance of the sage, if cynical, remark that has always been accredited to Mr. Barnum: "A sucker is born every minute."

This has become the credo of every con man, grifter and pitchmark the world over. There are some who take exception to the statement, however. They contend that while Mr. Barnum's insight into human nature was well founded he erred in his projection of the production rate. The rate now, they believe, would be about three to the minute.

Whatever the rate may be there is no question but the supply of suckers is plentiful. They fall into various categories, of course, and while no immediate statistics are at hand governing them, the Industrial News Review gives some figures on the operations of phony stock market operators.

The INR quotes Albert C. Lasher, a financial observer of long experience, to the effect that by the time the bells ring in 1960, Americans will lose some $150-million to the "boiler room men", as the specialists in phony stock deals are known.

They frequently use respectable sounding addresses, the INR says, in the financial districts of New York, Chicago, or Toronto.

Their principal tool is a telephone and their stock in trade a glib and persuasive tongue with an affidavit tone. Add to this the hope that lies in most of us that some day we really will find the pot of gold hidden at the end of the rainbow, and the boys have rather a profitable thing working.

Long-distance calls usually impress people and command attention, so most of the stock deal calls carry a long-distance tag. Some of the boiler room crews include women who pose as long-distance operators.

The stocks they recommend are worthless or virtually so but the boiler boys have a convincing patter of big things that are about to transpire that will send the prices zooming. Success? They guarantee it.

A fine offering of nickel-and-dime mining shares from Canada, Colorado and Montana is usually available. Some years ago gold and silver stocks were in demand. Some of the stock certificates carried pictures of miners, complete with beard and pick. Sometimes the miner was shown with a big chunk of what was presumably solid gold in his hand.

Today uranium has a greater lure than gold. Oils are also popular but the boiler boys are a cheap lot and the certificates likewise.

Since about the only use for such certificates is to paper the walls of a recreation room, one should at least have pictures.

Such wall covering serves well as a conversation piece, as the decorators say, but for a long pull wallpaper is much cheaper. Not so depressing either.

Government agencies, the stock markets and honest brokers do their best to protect the public against these racketeers but they can't do it all.

Mr. Lasher suggests that the best production is an informed stock-buying public.

"...You should know how the market works and how to check on stocks and brokers," Mr. Lasher says. "The information is available. But getting it requires some time and energy—and the boiler room men know it."

So the question resolves down to this. Are you willing to use some time and energy to learn about stocks before you buy or will you be one of those whose savings will disappear into some boiler room and become a part of the $50-million the phony operators are expected to harvest this year?

Here is one thing you can do if you get a call from a boiler boy. Keep him talking as long as you can to run up his phone bill and then say:

"Spell your name for me. I want to talk this over with my broker and the securities and exchange commission."

And the next sound you are likely to hear will be a fast click—as the connection is broken from the boiler room.

Your Doctor Reports

There was a tradition in olden China that the patient paid his doctor bills as long as he was not sick. If he became ill he was not billed until he recovered. Under this system the doctor's responsibility was to keep his patients in good health. Illness implied a failure on the part of the doctor.

Altho this seems odd to us at first glance, there is developing in our country a great deal of interest in the idea of using medical knowledge and the physician to keep healthy, rather than calling on these services only when one is sick.

Public health measures dating back many years, such as pasteurization of milk and smallpox vaccination, are programs designed to prevent illnesses rather than cure them.

We are all familiar with the numerous "shots" that greet the new-born baby during his first year of life. Sometimes young mothers are even a bit distressed at the number of times the doctor administers these injections. But we must never forget that, because of these "shots", the deadly diphtheria epidemics are practically a thing of the past and mothers no longer need suffer thru their children's frightening attacks of whooping cough. Even dreaded polio seems to be finally conquered.

Today the opportunity exists to extend the benefits of such health programs. Large corporations, for example, have adopted a policy of requiring their executive officers to take a thorough physical examination every year. These businessmen are convinced that an ounce of medical prevention can avoid the need for a pound of cure in many instances.

The same type of medical survey or checkup is available at reasonable cost to anyone

Expressway Transportation Cost In 1959 Set at $107 Million

(CNS) The year 1959 will make expressway transportation south and southwest from Chicago nearer to the tune of $107-million, according to the program announced here by Gov. Stratton.

Immediacy of the progress was emphasized Wednesday when the state highway department announced award of two contracts, one for $302,639 to Calumet Coal company, 9540 South Marquette, for 1.34 miles of concrete pavement on west frontage road of South Expressway between 127th and 117th streets, in Chicago. The other $129,357 was for furnishing a lighting system at 130th and South Expressway, south of Lake Calumet, to Wood Electrical Construction, Inc., 2326 Ogden.

Gov. Stratton's 1959 program includes $82,180,000, for 52 per cent of the expressway total, for the South Expressway, which has already cost $35-million in the last five years for right-of-way largely; $17,448,000 for the Calumet Expressway, which has cost $20-million already, $200,000 for Kingery Expressway, and 7,503,000 for land acquisition on the Southwest Expressway along the old canal bed.

The Southwest Expressway land buying, to be done by Cook county, includes eight lanes estimated to cost $607,000 for the 1.05 mile from California to Damen; and six lanes the rest of the way, estimated to cost $242,000 for the 3.60 miles from LaCrosse to the Sanitary and Ship Canal, and $6,654,000 for the 1.65 mile from Damen to Halsted.

The $200,000 to be spent on the Kingery Expressway by the county is for lighting in the 2.65 miles from the Indiana line to Paxton.

The Calumet Expressway program includes $22,797,000 to be spent by the state, as follows: Interchanges, $757,000 at 115th st., $842,000 at 111th st.; 107th to 130th, $396,000 for lighting, $135,000 for landscaping, $49,000 for lining and sings.

Cook county will spend on Calumet $15,111,000 as follows: $1,980,000 for grading between 96th and 100th streets; $119,000 for demolition between State and Cottage Grove; $2,080,000 for main drain and pumping station at 93rd east of Cottage Grove; $2,756,000 for another at 110th and Cottage Grove; $650,000 for lighting between 167th and the Grand Calumet river; and $270,000 for lighting the Kingery Expressway interchange; and the following for grade separations:

$1,560,000 each at State street and Illinois Central railroad west of Cottage Grove; $1,040,000 at the Rock Island tracks north of 103rd street; $835,000 each at Michigan and Cottage Grove; $625,000 at South Park; $437,000 at 103rd st.; $208,000 over Stony Island at 105th; and $156,000 at the west-bound connection at 99th street.

The South Expressway total includes $27,180,000 for land acquisition, of which the state will spend $7,120,000, including $5,70,000 for ten lanes in the mile between 47th and 55th. Chicago will spend $6,550,000 for eight to ten lanes from 18th to 31st st.

Cook county will spend an estimated $14,660,000 for South Expressway land during the year, all for six-lane width, as follows: $2,055,000 from Halsted to Racine at 100th st.; $2,237,000 for 100th to 103rd, east of the Rock Island tracks, and 1,638,000 for 107th to 111th; $1,125,000 for 119th to 127th; $1,130,000 from 127th to Dixie highway; $2,037,000 from Dixie highway to Crawford, and $1,025,000 from Crawford to east of Cicero.

For construction, the South Expressway will cost the state $254,000 for grade separation at 59th street and $337,000 for another at 61st street.

Cook county will spend $24,420,000 for the South Expressway construction during 1959, as follows: Grade separations, $4,092,000 at the Rock Island tracks near 65th; $916,000 at 63rd st.; $812,000 at Marquette road; $810,000 at 69th; and $520,000 at 64th and Wentworth; $2,600,000 at the Rock Island and Belt Lines north of 91st., $835,000 at Wentworth, and $600,000 and $364,000 for crossing of the south-bound and west-bound pavements at 99th and State.

Lighting will cost $376,000 from 69th to 96th, landscaping $215,000; grading $3,265,000, and $901,000 for a main drain and pumping station, from 63rd to 70th place, and $990,000 for a drain from State to Morgan. The rest is paving from 69th to 96th.
